

Title VI Policy Statement

Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, national origin, disability, sex, age, low income status or limited English proficiency in programs and activities receiving Federal financial assistance. Specifically, Title VI provides that "no person in the United States shall, on the ground of religion, race, color, national origin, disability, gender, age, low income status or limited English proficiency be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance" (42 U.S.C. Section 2000d).

The City of New Haven, Indiana is committed to ensuring that no person is excluded from participation in, or denied the benefits of its services on the basis of religion, race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, disability/handicap, low income status or limited English proficiency as protected with Title VI.
